COMMUNITY EVENTS

Turning teens into tomorrow's Jewish leaders: For students entering 9th-12th grade, UJA's Philanthropic Advisory Council for Teens (PACT) is a unique opportunity to acquire leadership and community building skills through a hands on philanthropic experience. This year's cohort raised and allocated nearly $250,000 – this is not your average extracurricular. The program, based in Manhattan, engages high schoolers from all over the New York metro area. Click to here for more information and to apply by 9/21/18.

Join the Philanthropic Advisory Council for Teens (PACT)

Calling all teens interested in making a difference in the world. Now is the time to apply for the Carole and Michael Friedman Manhattan Philanthropic Advisory Council for Teens (PACT) program. It's an opportunity to learn about fundraising, philanthropy, and all things UJA. Participants raise funds, select organizations to focus on from within UJA's network of nonprofits, and allocate money raised to those organizations.

Participants meet on eight Sunday evenings, from October to May, for dinner and engaging discussions. PACT is intended for teens entering grades 9 - 12 in September 2018 from any high school in the New York metro area.

Share this info with any teens in your life!

Spots are limited. The deadline to apply is Friday, September 21, 2018.
